St. Alban's Church To Celebrate 40th Anniversary

A Message from Rev. A. S. Partington

Christ Church Rectory,
Creston B. C.

My Dear Friends:

It is with great joy that I accede to the request of your Rector, Mr. Brown, to bring a message of greeting on the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the Parish of St. Alban's, Coleman.

An anniversary of this nature necessarily does two things. First of all, it recalls the sacrifice, the service, the patient faith and unremitting perseverance of those souls who have borne witness throughout the past years in this, the greatest cause in the world. And, secondly, it is a challenge to all of us who live in these wonderful days, to serve Christ better, to bear witness to Him more consistently and to live for Him more adventurously in the building of His Kingdom here on earth, to which supreme task God has called our nation and Empire.

As one of the rectors of Coleman-Blairmore Parish, I rejoice to have had some little share of the work in this part of the Master's Vineyard; and I trust that, led by His Holy Spirit, you may all go forward day by day and bring forth abundant fruit unto salvation.

Mrs. Partington and I have most happy memories of the eight years spent among you in Coleman and Blairmore, and the many friends whose remembrance neither time nor distance can dim. And we join our prayers with yours that this fortieth anniversary shall not only be the closing of one splendid chapter in the history of the Parish, but that it shall be the beginning of an ever greater witness for our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ and His Church.

"Be thou faithful unto death, and I shall give thee a crown of life."

With every good wish to one and all, and may God's abundant blessing rest upon all your work, undertaken in His Name, I am,

Ever yours faithfully,
A. S. Partington.

A Message from Rev. John R. Hague

Innisfail, Alberta.

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to extend greetings to the Parish of St. Alban's, Coleman, on the occasion of its fortieth anniversary. I have some very happy memories of the six years I spent there, and know what has been accomplished has been due to the big hearts, faithfulness and hard work of its parishioners. Now, looking back from "Hill 40," with heads held high, let us not forget to thank God for all those who have so generously given of time and substance for the advancement of God's work in this part of His vineyard. It is because so many of His servants have made their life a service to God that this anniversary is possible. Life is a pilgrimage—the church is always improving this upon us, and I would remind the parishioners of St. Alban's that the real life is to live in the present for the future. While much has been accomplished, there remains much still to be done, that the peace of God which passeth all understanding may pervade the world. God bless you all and your work. May you go from strength to strength in the earnest prayer of your friend and former Rector.

John R. Hague.

Forty Years of Service to This Community

No one can deny the influence of the church on Society, and forty years of continuous service to our young town is something we should all appreciate and be thankful.

When St. Alban's was built our town must have been very small. The ministers serving the few settlers of 1905 must have been of the sturdy pioneering stock the west knows so well. Much of the credit should go to them for their spirit of sacrifice in strenuous times of that period. However, the work of the church is never done and we hope the effort put in then will continue in the spirit of its inauguration and on behalf of our citizens, the town council and myself, I wish the present rector, Mr. Brown, and the congregation of St. Alban's my sincerest good wishes for pleasant and continuous service.

Frank Aboussafy
Mayor

A Short History of St. Alban's Parish

In April, 1903, Rev. F. G. Rickard was sent to open up work at Frank and Blairmore. Arriving immediately after the disastrous slide at Frank, the confusion resulting and departure of many inhabitants made it appear inexpedient to remain.

The town of Coleman was founded by the International Coal and Coke Co. in the autumn of 1903.

The Rev. R. A. Robinson was appointed incumbent of the mission January 1, 1904, making Coleman headquarters, and the first services were held January 10, 1904. The incumbent appointed Dr. J. Westwood, Coleman, interim treasurer for the whole mission, pending organization.

St. Alban's church was built and opened for services in 1905.

Mr. Robinson's incumbency terminated Oct. 14, 1906. The Rev. E. H. Webb, from Ponoka, began his ministry Feb. 3, 1907, at Coleman, Blairmore and Frank. He was succeeded by the Rev. W. MacMorine, who resigned after a few months. The Rev. A. B. Crowther, from Michel, came for occasional services and rendered what ministrations it was possible for him to do with such a large parish as he was working.

Leslie Fortham, lay-reader, was appointed to take charge of the mission Aug. 6, 1911. Things were in a very bad state on account of a strike existing. The Rev. D. G. Schorfield visited the mission and stayed during the month of September. On Oct. 15, the Bishop visited the mission and expressed himself as pleased at the state of Church affairs.

The Rev. J. Watkins Jones began his ministrations April 21, 1912, remaining until Aug. 30, 1914. During this period services were held in Coleman, Blairmore, Hillcrest and Bellevue. The Parish of St. Francis, Hillcrest, was formed and a new church built. For a short period, July and August, 1918, he had the assistance of Rev. A. C. Tait, who held services at Blairmore. A parish hall was built at Coleman during the incumbency of Mr. Watkins Jones. Disaster occurred at the Hillcrest mine during June, 1914. An explosion happened on Friday, June 19, and 189 lost their lives, only forty escaping. Twenty-nine burials are recorded in the parish register owing to this tragedy. Amongst those killed was Sam Charlton, a very faithful lay-reader at Hillcrest.

The Rev. Watkins Jones left to become Rector of Macleod and was succeeded by the Rev. R. J. Shires, of Lundbrook, now the Rector of St. Jude's church, Toronto. Mr. Shires began work Sept. 6, 1914, and left June 1, 1915, to take up chaplain duties with the Canadian army.

The Rev. H. Clay arrived on June 1, having recently come from England. His work lasted over a period of nearly five years. During this period, the great war took most of the available able-bodied men and made the work especially difficult. The church and hall were painted. Oak seats were installed in St. Alban's and were the result of faithful labor by Mrs. F. G. Graham and the members of the women's guild. Mr. Clay held his last service in St. Alban's on Saturday, April 17, 1920, when he left for England. He is still remembered and many kind references are often made by parishioners to this good, conscientious priest.

On Aug. 15, 1926, the Rev. A. D. Currie came to the parish and ministered faithfully to the needs of Coleman and Blairmore until ill health compelled him to resign and move to a lower altitude in June of 1930.

The Rev. A. S. Partington came to the parish in July, 1930, and remained until April 30, 1938. During his time as rector, St. Alban's hall was completely renovated and the rectory improved. A stone wall was built around the grounds, a garden planted and stone walks laid. Mr. Partington labored most conscientiously and left for Christ Church, Creston, April 30, 1938.

The Rev. J. R. Hague came to the parish May 27, 1938, and labored faithfully up to May 14, 1944, when he became Rector of Innisfail. Mr. Hague had extensive repairs made to the rectory at Coleman.

The present rector, W. E. Brown, was inducted by the bishop on May 16, 1944, and is privileged to arrange and take part in the fortieth anniversary of St. Alban's church.

Rev. Brown Sends Message to Congregation

St. Alban's Rectory,
Coleman, Alberta.

My Dear People:

First, I have to thank the Editor of The Journal for giving us so much space to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of St. Alban's church.

We must say, "Oh! how amiable are Thy dwellings, O Lord of Hosts. My soul hath a desire and longing to enter into the courts of the Lord."

The first use of our church is to witness for God. The church rises as a gospel of the presence of God from day to day, and from age to age. The church is full of voices, memories, partings, answers of prayer, consolation in sorrow, guidance in perplexity, strength in weakness, hopes of meeting again those who have gone on before, visions of God, powers of the world to come, and gifts of the Holy Spirit.

To us it ought to be as dear as the Temple was to Daniel, who did not pray till he had opened his window in Babylon that looked across the thousands of miles of desert towards Jerusalem. The Church is to guide, to hallow, to bless us through the temptations and aspirations of life, to give power to our hopes and stands for everything good in this life and fits us for the eternal city of God.

The fortieth anniversary ought to be a stimulus—that is, an inspiration to renewed courage, a rekindling of zeal, and fresh consecration to the service of our Lord and Master.

Our faith must pierce the clouds, and our eyes must be fixed on the Hills from whence cometh our help. God's judgments are sifting the nations and the churches, too. If men's hearts fail them for fear we at least should remember that "the Lord sitteth above the water flood and the Lord remaineth a King for-

Bishop Ragg Extends Good Wishes

May 25, 1945.

My Dear People:

I am most happy to have this opportunity of writing a word of greeting and of good wishes to the Rector and people of St. Alban's church, Coleman, on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of the parish.

I had hoped that I might have been able to be with the congregation for this great day, but unfortunately events beyond my control prevented my doing so; I shall, however, look forward to my visit on Sunday, July 8.

I send to the Rector, and to all the people of St. Alban's church, my very good wishes, and my hopes for great advance in the years to come.

Richard, Calgary.

Congratulations From Rev. A. D. Currie

Brooks, Alberta

Dear Mr. Brown:

Please convey to the members of St. Alban's, Coleman, my heartiest congratulations on their anniversary.

I would like to be with you at that time, but time and distance prevent.

As one of the former Rectors, may I wish you every blessing in your work.

Yours sincerely,
A. D. Currie.

ever."

"Today there comes to the church of God as she stands upon her watch tower the opportunity to proclaim the regenerating message of the Gospel of Love. It is our duty to proclaim that message first and foremost in our own lives, and then, so far as we are able, in the life of the community. To make what we are, and do, and say, an expression of our unalterable conviction that all men are the children of God; That His Power is the Power of Love; and that it will ultimately triumph over all opposing forces. Let us be sure of this. He and no other can help us and the world to rise to the higher level of faith and experience which may carry us forward into a new era, worthy of seemingly hopeless act of self sacrifice whereby Christ our Saviour poured out His life for all men unto death."

With this message taken to heart and acted upon will enable us to grow up unto the measure and stature of the fullness of Christ. We ourselves are the Church of God. The fortieth anniversary is a challenge and an opportunity.

God bless you all.

Sincerely yours,

W. E. Brown, Rector.

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

FIGHT AGAINST VD. RECEIVES RECEIVES IMPETUS

The Dominion-wide fight to stamp out venereal diseases received impetus recently when both the Saskatchewan and Alberta legislatures approved amendments to their Marriage Acts making pre-marital blood tests for syphilis compulsory. Amendments in both provinces are to come into force July 1.

These measures will uncover a lot of unsuspected syphilis inasmuch as these two provinces, in common with the others, have legislation providing for compulsory treatment for known syphilis.

Pre-marital blood tests have been advocated by the Health League of Canada for many years, and their necessity was re-emphasized in the May 16-21 special "Stamp Out VD" campaign which was sponsored jointly by the League and the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association in co-operation with health departments. Pre-marital and pre-natal blood testing, if made compulsory throughout Canada, would do much to win the battle against syphilis.

Before the recent amendment was approved, Saskatchewan's Marriage Act provided that no person authorized to solemnize marriages should perform a ceremony if either of the parties, to his knowledge, was suffering from a communicable disease in a communicable state, and until each of the parties concerned had furnished a health certificate.

The amendment provides that "the medical examinations covered by such certificates shall take place within 30 days immediately preceding the date of the solemnization of the marriage and shall include a serological test for syphilis." The health certificates must be forwarded to the provincial health department by the performer of the marriage ceremony within 24 hours after the ceremony.

Alberta's legislation before the recent amendment provides that no clergyman could perform a marriage ceremony after the publication of banns unless the parties produced affidavits that they were not at the time suffering from a venereal disease or tuberculosis. This was amended by the insertion in the affidavit of the words "to the best of his knowledge."

Under the main amendment to the Alberta Act, however, no issue of marriage licences is allowed to issue a license, nor is any clergyman allowed to publish the banns of a marriage unless there has been filed with the proper authorities a medical certificate certifying that a specimen of blood for a serological test for syphilis has been taken and has been or will be forwarded to the provincial laboratory. The test must take place within 14 days before the application for licence or first publication of banns, and a certificate to that effect filed.

The physician involved is not required to give an opinion; merely to take a blood specimen, submit it to the laboratory, and convey the result of the test to the person concerned. The laboratory is required to report all positive tests to the Director of

War Aces Become T.C.A. Pilots

After six weeks at T.C.A.'s flight training school at the Winnipeg operations headquarters, repatriated R.C.A.F. flyers graduate as first officers, and later captains.

The above picture shows a group of repatriated men receiving instructions in radio range flying. In the centre of the table is the "crab," also known as Charlie McCarthy, which records the line of flight as done by one of the students in the Link trainer.

Learning to fly the T.C.A. way, even though repatriated men are seasoned flyers, needs six weeks of highly concentrated post graduate study. As first officers, these pilots must know their craft from the simplest pre-take-off procedure to the most complicated details of navigation and mechanical limits. This is an undertaking of large proportions and ex-R.C.A.F. officers, put in a ten-hour week-day throughout the course.

Air Future Bright

Canadian Pacific Airlines Official Says Canada Can Lead World

"Canada can lead the world in aviation and can provide gainful employment for 50 per cent of the men in the R.C.A.F. if she adopts a progressive international aviation policy," Grant McConachie, western Canadian manager for Canadian Pacific Airlines, told 100 delegates at the first B.C. provincial air conference in Kamloops, B.C.

Mr. McConachie said that if Canada hopes to get her rightful share of post-war business in the air, she must provide service equal to or better than that of any other nation. "We have the fliers," he said. "None are better than our Canadian boys. We have technicians, the ground crews, the maintenance men, but we must have good aircraft too. If we have that and a far sighted policy we can become as great a trading nation in the air as Holland was at the sea a few centuries ago."

Gave More Power

British Scientists Produced Super-Fuel For R.A.F. Fighter Planes

British scientists in 1943 produced a "super-fuel" greatly superior to 100 octane fuel which gave R.A.F. fighters 20 per cent more power and enabled them to catch and destroy many of the German flying bombs aimed at Britain, the ministry of aircraft production has disclosed.

All Allied requirements for the new fuel, known as 180-Octane, were met by British refineries.

Preliminary steps to ensure that the R.A.F. could count on supplies of ordinary 100 octane fuel were taken before the war began, the ministry said. Now government plants in Britain alone yield more than 150,000,000 gallons of aviation fuel annually.

There are 88 keys in the full compass keyboard of the piano forte, the provincial Division of Social Hygiene.

In both provinces, the medical examination and blood test may be waived under certain extenuating circumstances, but only on approval of the Minister of Health.

New Hospital Ship

Former Italian Liner Can Carry More Than 420 Cases

The former Italian liner Gerusalemme now is a naval hospital ship. Her conversion was carried out in Durban, South Africa, and she now is considered the most modern hospital ship in Union waters. The ship can carry more than 420 cases in her 14 wards. The liner lay unused at Laurence Marquies for four years after she had managed to reach that port at the end of a chase by bombers of the South African Air Force at the outbreak of war with Italy. She was brought to Durban after Italy's capitulation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 10

THE MINISTRY OF JESUS

Memory Selection: I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life.—John 8:12.

Lesson: Matthew; Mark; Luke; John.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:1-9.

THE LESSON OUTLINE

The Political Authorities in Power during the Life of Jesus. Palestine was under Roman rule when Jesus was born. Herod the Great died in 4 B.C. and his kingdom was divided among his three sons. Archelaus received Judea and Samaria; Herod Antipas, Galilee and Peraea; Philip, Iturea and Trachonitis east of the Jordan.

Archelaus was removed in 6 A.D. His territory, united with the province of Syria, was under a procurator until 41 A.D. Herod Antipas was given the title of tetrarch and ruled until 41 A.D. He is the Herod most frequently mentioned in the Gospels accounts. He it was who imprisoned John the Baptist, and he was the one to whom Pilate sent Jesus during his trial. Philip ruled until 33 or 34 A.D. He built the city of Caesarea Philippi, in those neighborhoods which proclaimed Jesus to be the Christ.

The Religious Authority. Under the Romans a measure of self-government was allowed the Jews which was vested in the Sanhedrin, a court of 71 priests, scribes and elders presided over by the high priest. The Sanhedrin exercised administrative and judicial as well as religious functions.

To the priests, the official representatives of religion, its outward form was important, but its inward spiritual content was neglected. They were indifferent to the claims of justice and mercy. Against their lawless religion Jesus waged continual warfare.

Here Is a Man. Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in an obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was 30, and then for three years he was an itinerant teacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never travelled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness.

He had no credentials but himself. He had nothing to do with this world except the power of his divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. One of them denied him. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves. He never travelled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness.

Nineteen centuries have come and gone. The Centrepiece of the human race and the Leader of the clan of progress. — Phillips Brooks.

ORIGINAL "HAW-HAW"

An English traitor who calls himself the original "Lord Haw Haw" was exposed and seized by U.S. troops while acting as interpreter for an American military government official, Norman Baillie Stewart (above), former British officer who spent five years in the Tower of London for "selling his country for 50 pounds," admitted after he was exposed, that he worked for the German propaganda ministry and the foreign office for the last five years.

The Perfect Tribute

Was Paid To David Livingstone By Scottish University Students

David Livingstone, missionary to Africa, was to receive an honorary degree from a Scottish university, where it is the custom to make sport of such candidates, the students sitting in the balcony and calling out raucous remarks. If he be a wealthy soap manufacturer who has made a handsome gift to the university, he may be greeted with, "Hi Old Soap-Maker." When Livingstone was to appear for a degree, many wondered how the students would contrive to humiliate him. His appearance was anything but prepossessing, weary and worn. As his name was called the students varied their procedure, raising to stand in absolute silence, their tribute to one whom they recognized as great.

All planets shine only by reflected sunlight.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Three's A Crowd

—By—

HENRY W. ATHERTON

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Walter Williams, old man Blain's secretary, wasn't exactly happy. The glare of the sun on the water hurt his eyes. He took off his glasses and squinted at the three people in the stern of the cabin cruiser.

Ellen Blain, her father and Dean seemed unaware of him as the craft glided smoothly along. Walter had to admit the young boat salesman was handsome. The deeply tanned face showed up well above the white pullover sweater. The powerful jaw and snapping black eyes gave him away, though.

When they had anchored off Deer Island Mr. Blain selected the strongest rod and reel. "I won't need any help, Dean," he said, giving the rod a powerful swing toward the reef. "I was fishing before you learned to talk."

"Fine. You'll have plenty of action in a few minutes," promised Dean. "I'd keep the line a little tighter, though. They hit plenty hard, and you don't want to lose the first one."

"I thought you said there were lots of fish here," Blain grumbled, and cast again.

"There are, but you don't keep your line in long enough for anything to find it," answered Dean sharply.

The president of the Sun Oil Company slowly turned a brick red. "What'd you say, young man?" he sputtered. And then his line sang as it sped through the water. He gave a sharp pull, and the rod bent double.

"Loosen up! Let him have more line," yelled Dean.

The old man was too brassy to answer. Anxiously he watched the reel spin, and put on the brake. The fish turned, and he had to start winding in a hurry. Mr. Blain fought gamely for ten minutes, sweat pouring from his face. "No darn fish is worth it," he groaned, and braced himself on the rail of the boat.

"You're making it hard work. If you'd relax, and do as I say you wouldn't be all in."

"Who said I was tired?" shouted the old man. "I'll land him if it takes a week."

Walter Williams gave Ellen a knowing glance. "The manager of the boat company told me they don't often send Dean on fishing parties," he began. "Said he is all right at selling, but has a nasty temper. I'm sorry we asked him to come with us."

"I think it's fun," Ellen laughed excitedly. "Dad hasn't had anyone tell him what to do in years."

"Your father doesn't like it," replied Walter. "He wants to buy a boat so he can entertain the firm's customers. I suppose it'll be up to me to find another one," he added.

"Let me help if you're tired," grinned Dean.

"I'll cuss you out later," shouted Mr. Blain. "And be more careful with the gear."

A beauty! Dean told him. "Largest red fish caught in years. Over forty pounds."

"Looks like a whale," beamed the old man. "Put him on ice, and then come back here. There's a lot I want to say to you."

Dean chuckled. "I guess I did ride you a little." He looked the fish over carefully and shook his head.

"I'm sorry, we'll have to put him back. There's a thirty-six inch limit on red fish."

"What?" shouted Mr. Blain. "You must be crazy!"

"It's the law," Dean explained calmly.

"I'm the boss of this outfit," exploded the old man. "My camera's in the clubhouse. I'm going to take a picture when we get back there."

Dean started the motor, and swung the boat about. "Very well. Keep the fish if you want to, but remember there's a fifty-dollar fine if you're caught. Just keep quiet around the Yacht Club."

Walter hurried to get the camera. He went into the club bar. "We caught a fifty-pound red," he boasted to the manager. Glancing around he said in a low voice: "Have it down on the boat now."

Ellen was taking the third picture when the game warden came over. "I'll take that fish," he said. "And the fine is fifty dollars."

Half an hour later Dean hurriedly left the office of the boat company and drove back to the Yacht Club. Walking angrily into the bar he saw Mr. Blain. "Your secretary didn't waste any time running to my boss. I've been fired, thanks to you."

"What?" sputtered the old man, jumping to his feet. "I told Walter to tell your outfit we wouldn't be interested in buying the boat," he shouted. "I didn't!"

"Your secretary," said the club manager quietly, "is the one who tipped off the game warden, bragging about a 50-pound red fish. Seemed to want everyone on the bar to hear him."

In Blain's town house that evening Walter felt completely happy. He would spend the next few days looking at new boats... there might even be a little commission coming his way if he worked it just right.

But then he heard his employer's voice—"I can use a man of Dean's ability."

"He'll need a good salary, father," said Ellen. "We may be together a lot in the future."

Walter's heart pounded. Something was terribly wrong.

"I know you're tired," said Ellen. "But hasn't it been fun? And Dean can take charge of the new boat when you buy it," she added.

Mr. Blain chuckled. "I'm going to do a lot of fishing with Dean," he admitted.

"Walter will be disappointed," said Ellen quietly.

Mr. Blain started shouting. "Just wait until tomorrow morning. My voice," he said huskily, "won't stand the strain now. Anyway I want the entire office force around when I fire Walter."

The initial use of incendiaries by aircraft occurred during the German Zeppelin raid on London in 1915, when one airship dropped 90 fire bombs.

Have No Illusions

British People Know Peace Demands As Much As War

H. V. Morton, in the B.B.C. Series on "Life at Home," says: "One good thing about our attitude at home here in England is that we have no illusions this time. We know that Peace is going to demand almost as much from us as war. It was very different last time. How well I remember what it felt like to be demobilized—a queer twisted feeling of wild joy and grief, not unmingled with fear, and how well I remember the strange and improbable reflection in shop windows and that ME, wearing a bowler hat—could it be true?—and how often my hand went up smartly to the bowler's brim when passing a general for we did a lot of sailing in the last war! But above all, I remember the belief, which was shared by most of my generation, that when the war had been won a new Golden Age would automatically open up before us. Well, it didn't. And I think it's a good thing that now, when the War, or the European half of it, has ended nobody at home thinks that we can tackle the peace without leadership, vision, faith, truthfulness, self-sacrifice, hard work and oh well a new moral code."

Just Retribution

To Impress The Rank And File Of Our Enemies

Perhaps it is too much to expect that every one of the millions of Nazi war criminals will be punished but certainly the start this time is much more auspicious than 25 years ago. Then the guilty were not even mildly scared, most of them only amused. There is a different situation today.

Rough justice has already caught up with strutting Mussolini and many of his henchmen while literally scores of Nazis have taken the easy way out by committing suicide.

Of course records are blacker and consciences should be guiltier this time, but there is also real fear of retribution. It is to be hoped that this fear will continue to be well founded.

Every effort must be made to do this disagreeable job of sanitation thoroughly and promptly and if at all possible in a way that will impress the rank and file of our enemies that justice is being carried out, not persecution. Toronto Financial Post.

Japan's Land Grab

Eight Countries Lost Control Of About 2,796,690 Square Miles

Through warfare in the past 50 years, Japan has grabbed land, totalling 2,796,690 square miles in area, with a population of 368,212,000 that belonged to eight countries: China, Britain, France, Thailand, Russia, Portugal, the Netherlands and the United States, our territory being Guam, Wake and the Philippines. Including its own people, Japan therefore controlled, one year ago, 21 per cent. of the population of the world—Colliers.

The Clever Dutch

During German Occupation Attempted Entire Plane To Preserve Details

Dutch workmen in a Fokker plane factory at Amsterdam during the German occupation stole enough parts to constitute an entire plane and buried it on the factory grounds to await liberation by the Allies, it has been revealed. Said one: "We were afraid that important details of manufacture would be destroyed in heavy air raids before Allied experts could examine them."

Our old friend, the Vicious Circle, pops up again in this one; rags make paper, which makes money, which makes loans, which makes poverty, which makes rags.

Frozen beverages were known in Europe as early as the 15th century.

More Treasure

Was Uncovered On Crag High In Austrian Alps

The state treasure of Hungary, including the total gold reserve behind all Hungarian currency in circulation, was uncovered recently by the U.S. 80th infantry division on a rocky, pine-covered crag high in the Austrian Alps.

The treasure trove, hidden at the ancient mountain village of Spital Am Pyhrn, was unearthed by Hungarian-born Sgt. William J. DeHuszar, Chicago.

It included 4,000,000,000 pengos $130,000,000 at the present rate of exchange), 29,000 kilograms of gold bullion worth $30,000,000, complete sets of Hungarian bank note plates for printing all Hungarian currency and other wealth representing most of the capital interest and individual deposits of Hungary brought from Budapest before the Russians captured that city.

Also in the mountain-top chapel cellar were more than 1,000,000 reichsmarks, $159,000 in American currency, six cases of priceless Hungarian art treasures, including historical 14th century illuminated manuscripts belonging to the ancient Magyar kings, and 20 cases containing jewels and other valuables owned by the property of the royal Hungarian court.

This wealth in money, art and jewels was watched over by the pro-Nazi president of the Royal Bank of Hungary and some 500 financial experts, clerks, bookkeepers and other employees, guarded by 200 picked Hungarian gendarmes.

Allied supreme headquarters said gendarmes tried to remove the treasure shortly before the arrival of the 50th division.

But a patrol Hungarian stalled on the job and deliberately misled keys and vital records and generally sabotaged the German attempt at plunder. When the Americans arrived the Germans fled in panic.

Get Special Care

Children With Defective Vision Well Looked After In Chicago

Children with defective vision are keeping pace with eagle-eyed youngsters in Chicago's public schools.

Children whose sight has deteriorated to the danger point are put in special sight saving rooms. There they study with a minimum of eye strain, and learn how to conserve or improve their vision.

Everything in these rooms seems unique. The walls are painted a sea-foam green and light floods through huge, studio-sized windows. Movable desks are shifted about so the light always comes over the student's left shoulder. Adjustable desk tops are fixed at each pupil's reading range.

Blackboards are soft green, yellow chalk is an inch thick and writing paper is buff colored. Books are set in large, 24-point type and wall maps are big, simple, heavily lined.

Typical of the departments set up, within various regulation elementary and high schools, are two rooms at the Bell School. In one are lots of the first through fourth grades. Some have their strong eyes covered with a patch. Each uses, and thus strengthens, the weak eye.

In the other room are older boys and girls. Using the touch system, they poke out their writing lessons on typewriters equipped with oversize letters. When their eyes tire, they rest.

Their condition is checked and rechecked. Of the 337 scholars placed in the special rooms in the three most recent semesters, 65 fared well enough to graduate and 62 recovered sufficiently to return to their regular classes.

Trained teachers instruct the sight-savers in the special rooms, but they recite in their regular class rooms.

They also eat and play with their normal schoolmates.

Do they feel handicapped? "No," an oversex reports. "They think they're privileged."

Tip For Cattlemen

Brand Should Be Used That Will Not Damage Hide

Wide and deep branding of cattle on those parts of the body which supply the best leather is responsible for a considerable discount in the price of hides. Many cattle in Western Canada are produced under what might be called semi-ranch conditions and the animals must be marked in some way for identification. Owing to large brands spoiling the hides for the manufacture of the best leather, it has been suggested that cattle might consider the use of the smallest possible brand that would give protection and at the same time be placed in a position that would cause the least possible damage to the hide. The mark might be made on the ears jaw, neck, shoulder, thigh or rump.

Brazil, which is a heavy exporter to world hide markets, passed a law in 1939 prohibiting the branding of cattle on the body proper. Only brands that may be compassed by a 4 1/2 inch circle may be used and placed only on the cheek, neck, or legs below the belly line.

Making Friendships

1,400,000 Letters A Week Between British Civilians And U.S. Soldiers

Perhaps this is the best evidence that the American soldiers and the British people reached a good understanding, during the time when they shared the island of Great Britain before D-Day.

An announcement reveals that about 700,000 personal letters cross the English Channel each week from American soldiers on the Western Front, addressed to the friends they have made in Britain; and that each week about the same number of personal letters cross the Channel in the opposite direction from British civilians addressed to U.S. soldiers on the Western Front. This is an exchange of 1,400,000 letters a week between Americans and Britons.

It seems inconceivable that personal ties on such a scale can fail to have a permanent effect in making relations closer between Britain and America. Nothing like this has happened between two nations ever before in history—Empire Digest.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Get Out And Vote

Regardless of your political affiliation, it is your patriotic duty to vote in the federal election on Monday, June 11.

Here in the Macleod constituency the voter has plenty of choice: Liberal, Progressive Conservative, CCF, Social Credit and Labor Progressive. So many parties reminds one of France before the war. She had so many parties clamoring for power that she was unable to form a stable government to put up a fight against an aggressor. While Canada does not anticipate attack from an aggressor it nevertheless does not benefit Canada, in our eyes, to have so many parties with conflicting ideas.

JOBS ASSURED BEFORE DEMOBILIZATION

A Square Deal for Veterans Assured by Progressive Conservatives

The very first clause of the Progressive Conservative plans for the re-establishment of Veterans, adopted at the National Convention of December, 1942, is as follows:—

DEMOBILIZATION

In carrying out the demobilization of Canada's Armed Forces the primary consideration should be the interest of those who have served. Demobilization should be based on the principle that members of the Armed Forces should not be discharged until their economic security is assured by placement in gainful employment or by assisted training and education to that end.

Here, in this simple statement of progressive, realistic policy is the only true solution of the fundamental problem by which every ex-service man and woman is faced. It is the only assurance of a square deal for all veterans. It is the very basis of the Rehabilitation Policies of the Progressive Conservative Party. No veteran will be discharged against his will until he is assured of a decent livelihood.

"Platitudes will not fill empty stomachs," declares John Bracken, "nor generalities provide jobs for those who have fought, nor wordy declamations about sacrifice ease the load of the widows and children whose husbands and fathers gave life itself that we might live in peace and security."

Throughout the war, Canadian service men and women have had their fill of platitudes and generalities.

Let our veterans now ask themselves this question. Does the spirit of political partisanship which the King Government has consistently manifested in time of war, offer any assurance of a square deal for veterans in time of peace? Does the iniquitous manpower policy which split Canada apart reflect the right spirit? Remember in war, as in peace, political policies infallibly indicate party principles.

It is significant that more than half of the Progressive Conservative candidates are service and ex-service men. No other party can even approach this record. These men know that no other party has such realistic and comprehensive plans for rehabilitation. They know that the Progressive Conservative Party is the service men's party.

They know that John Bracken, father of three sons on active service, understands the problems, the hopes and the fears of veterans.

They say, with John Bracken

"The cost of winning the war and the cost of re-establishing those who fought in it, is one and indivisible. In the plainest words of my command, I say to you that nothing short of full-time gainful employment for every man and woman who has worn the Canadian uniform will be acceptable. Every man and woman must be given an opportunity to earn a good living. If existing enterprise cannot do this, the State must, and will."

These service and ex-service candidates, with John Bracken, pledge themselves that, under no circumstances, will existing benefits to veterans be lessened. On the contrary, they will be increased and extended.

They, with John Bracken, pledge themselves to revise an out-moded pensions act, to humanize its administration, to eliminate red tape and inexcusable delays. Pension rates will be reviewed at once and increased to bring them in line with higher living costs.

Under a Progressive Conservative government, recorded condition of personnel on enlistment will be accepted as sufficient proof in determining disability pension. The veteran will be entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

The "first in, first out" principle will be followed on demobilization—with a job at decent pay assured to the veteran when he returns to "civvy" street.

In the words of our leader, we of the Progressive Conservative Party, "accept the challenge to demonstrate to you who fought that you shall not be handicapped in days of peace because you responded to the nation's call in days of war."

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER
Friends gathered at the 100F hall on Monday evening, May 28, to honor Miss Mary Snider, June bride-elect, at a miscellaneous shower. Cards were played, winners being Mrs. J. Morrison and Mrs. Mary. The bean guessing contest was won by Miss Reta Ash and the musical chairs by Miss Mary Tree-tinsky. During the evening a delightful luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Salus, Mrs. R. Graham, Mrs. J. Treastinsky, Miss Ann Salus, Miss Jean Jackson, Miss Lena Snider and Miss Dorothy Car-ruthers.

Following luncheon the honored guest was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts for which she ably voiced her thanks to the assembled guests.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

About thirty friends gathered at the home of Mrs. J. Vanoni at Blairmore last week as a surprise party to Miss Rita Vanoni, bride-elect. A pleasant social evening was spent playing a number of games, which was followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon. During the evening the honored guest was the recipient of a decorated basket full of beautiful and useful gifts, along with the best wishes for a happy married life. The honored guest thanked her friends for their lovely gifts and well wishes.

E. G. Hansell Attacks Social Debt System In Local Address

A meeting was held on Tuesday night at the Community hall, Coleman, in the interests of the election of E. G. Hansell, M.P. Mr. Fred Antrobus acted as chairman.

In answering Mr. King's statement that the election could not be fought on any single issue, Mr. Hansell stated that in his opinion the election was being fought on one of the greatest issues that have ever faced the Canadian people, which was the choice between a philosophy which eventually led to a state dictatorship or that which led to an effective democracy in a nation of free men. The one, he said, was characterized by a system of social debt while the other was characterized by a system of social credit.

Mr. Hansell likened the social debt system to a cage in which all Canadians are confined and that all other parties in the election were attempting to distribute the goods and services within the bars of the cage, while the system of social credit is devised to break the bars of the cage in order that all might be free to enjoy the vast wealth which Canada's natural resources and human skill are able to provide.

Mr. Hansell went on to prove that under the present social debt system our national production always exceeded our national income and that to have a balanced economy there must be free issue of money to equate consumption with production and that this free issue of money would be paid out by increased old age pensions, health services, and to augment wages, making it possible to have full employment with reduced hours of labor. "A redistribution of our national income by taking from some and giving to others will not increase the total national income so that the Canadian people may absorb their productive wealth," said Mr. Hansell.

"This is one fact that all other parties fail to recognize," Mr. Hansell illustrated his point by showing that contributory schemes such as unemployment insurance meant that the worker paid "the whole shot" by the increase in the price of consumable goods on the part of industry and increased taxation by the government.

The speaker claimed that Mr. King's attack on the Social Credit MP's for protecting the sovereign rights of the Canadian people was vicious. "What Mr. King wants to do," said Mr. Hansell, "is to sell Canada to the rest of the world, while Social Crediters, also realizing the necessity of world trade, wanted to give Canada to the Canadian people."

One question Mr. Hansell claimed his opponents could not answer was how they could keep up the vast expenditures for the post-war period and at the same time reduce taxation. Social Crediters, he claimed, were the only ones who had the answer.

Mr. E. O. Duke, M.L.A., also spoke, answering some of the attacks that had been made on the Social Credit Government of Alberta. He showed the development undertaken by the Alberta government in the Ft. McMurray tar-sands and stated that the government would never sell out to the big interests. In closing the meeting he urged all to exercise their democratic rights in voting on Monday.

Nurses Needed for Veterans' Hospitals

The end of the war in Europe will witness the return of all casualties to veterans' hospitals in Canada. In order to assist in obtaining the necessary nursing staff, special committees are being established at points across Canada where the hospitals are located.

The duties of these committees will be to confer on methods of augmenting nursing staffs to undertake the provisions of all necessary information to graduating nursing students and to make arrangements for the convenience of students in submitting their applications.

The committee will consist of a district representative of the Civil Service Commission to act as chairman, with representatives from both the nurses' association and the local employment and selective service office.

Clarifying on the personnel of the committee, it was stated that the regional office will designate a member of the staff of the women's division, from the local offices concerned, as a representative. Mrs. Rex Eaton, associate director, National Selective Service, is making the necessary arrangements with the Canadian Nurses' Association for their nominations to the local committees.

Dear Sirs: Thank you for this month's parcel of cigarettes. — J. Panek.

Do You Want An Old-Party Government?

There are several parties to vote for in Alberta, but only the old parties and the C.C.F. have a sufficient number of candidates in the field to elect a government.

Unless there is a C.C.F. government there will be an Old Party government.

A vote cast for any party but the C.C.F. will help keep the Old Parties in power.

Remember, it is a post-war, peace-time government you'll elect on June 11th. The record of the Old Parties in peace is one of poverty on the farms. (When the King government reduced the price of wheat to 70 cents, F.O.B. Ft. William, in 1939, it was the lowest price in any but two years of the previous half century!)

The C. C. F. Program Is:

1. Keep the industries running to supply Canadians with a high standard of living.
2. Provide jobs for all at useful work to improve the Canadian standard of living.
3. Guaranteed farm prices that will give farm families a fair share of the national income.
4. Social Security for all, old age pensions at 60, free health services.

Are You Easily Scared?

Big Business is counting on frightening you into putting their political reserves back into power to give you the kind of post-war government you had before the war. Remember, the people who are paying for the anti-C.C.F. blitz are the people who gave you two cents for your cattle and twenty cents for wheat in pre-war years. They think if you can be scared against the C.C.F. you will forget to be scared of the real dangers which they have in store for you. They are counting on you being easily scared.

YOUR CHOICE IS AN OLD PARTY GOVERNMENT OR THE C. C. F.

TOM is in the pink ... DICK has retired
HARRY will go places

Tom knows something about stormy weather, but he feels in the pink and his mind is at ease because his life insurance, which protects his loved ones, has weathered the strains of war and epidemics. The reserves behind his policies are regulated by law and so stand guard that even in times of the gravest stress he knows he is secure.

Dick knew nothing about life insurance reserves when he took on his first policy as a young man. But now that he has retired, he knows that the security he enjoys comes largely from the monthly income provided from his insurance—protected by reserves accumulated from his past premium payments.

Harry is an up-and-coming fellow who needs only opportunity to make good. He may not know it, but his own life insurance and the premiums of several million others will keep providing him and others with opportunities for years to come. Life insurance funds are invested in undertakings from coast to coast that provide employment for multitudes of people.

LET NO ONE MISLEAD YOU!

Life insurance policy reserves represent premium dollars accumulated at interest for policyholders by life insurance companies as the necessary provision against the day when policies become claims by death, maturity or surrender. Let no one mislead you about the nature of these funds. They are NOT "surplus funds" nor do they represent "profits" in any sense of the word. Policy reserves are the exact measure of the total funds which must be held for policyholders, to be paid to them when due.

WEDDINGS

ALLAN-SNIDER

At St. Paul's United church, June 3, at 2 p.m., Mary Snider, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Snider, became the bride of James Mearns Allan, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allan, all of Coleman. Before the altar, banked high with pink snapdragons and yellow mountain lilies, the ceremony took place. Rev. G. A. Kettyle read the lines.

Preceded by three bridesmaids, Elsie and Lena Snider and Dorothy Carruthers, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of floor length white satin in princess style, featuring sweetheart neckline, and her bridal veil was held in place by a coronet of tiny pink rosebuds. Her bouquet was of roses in two shades of pink and her only ornament was a gold locket, gift of the groom.

The three bridesmaids, all dressed alike, looked charming in floor length gowns of pale pink sheet and taffeta, cut on princess lines. Tiny cassettes with rosebuds were their 'addresses and each carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons and carnations.

Wm. Milley ably supported the groom, while Steve Snider and Murdoch McDougall assisted.

During the signing of the register Miss Peggy McDonald sang delightfully "O Perfect Love," and Mrs. Vernon Brown played the wedding music.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, where Mr. and Mrs. Snider received the bridal party. For the occasion Mrs. Snider chose a floral dress of silk jersey. While Mrs. Allan, mother of the groom, wore a two-piece suit of silk crepe in tiny floral design. Both ladies wore shoulder corsages of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake, made by Mrs. Allan and most artistically iced and decorated by Mrs. James Glendenning, an old friend of the family.

Later in the afternoon the happy couple left for Banff, the bride choosing a cocoa brown dressmaker suit with brown accessories as her going away outfit. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Allan will reside in east Coleman.

DELUCA-VANONI

A pretty wedding took place in the Catholic church, Blairmore, on Saturday morning at 9.30 o'clock when Rita Maryann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vanoni, of Blairmore, became the bride of Armando M. A. DeLuca, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Bomben, of Coleman.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and wore a beautiful floor length white satin gown and flowing veil. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Her attendant was Miss Ada Avoledo, of Blairmore, while Mr. Elveno DeCocco attended the groom.

Following the ceremony the wedding party journeyed to the photographer's, where pictures were taken.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in a black velvet chiffon, lightened with a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother was dressed in a two-piece black and white suit, with a corsage of pink carnations.

About fifty guests sat down to the wedding breakfast, the bride's table being centred with a beautiful 3-tiered wedding cake made by the groom's mother.

The toast to the bride was made by Mr. Joe DeLuca and responded to by the groom. A toast was also given by the groom to his younger brother, Joe, a member of the Royal Canadian Navy, and who was unable to be present.

Dancing was enjoyed in the evening to the music of Rossi Amatto, of Blairmore, and Tommy Kropin, of Coleman. During the intermissions the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sartoris entertained with songs sung in both English and Italian. During the evening Mr. Bert Bond, on behalf of International mine officials, underground and surface, presented the bride and groom with a beautiful chest of silverware and wished them many years of happy married life.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. Joe DeLuca, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tortorelli, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosier, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Armstrong, Mrs. Mamie DeLuca and Miss Virginia DeLuca, all of Michel.

The following day the bridal couple left for a honeymoon to be spent at Calgary and Banff. On their return they will reside in Coleman, where the groom is the International timekeeper. The bride has worked as a stenographer in the International general office for several years and is popularly known in Coleman.

On Wednesday, May 30, a pleasing little ceremony took place in the International general office when Mr. Percy Dickenson, on behalf of the office personnel, presented Miss Rita Vanoni, a staff member, with a handsome nest-of-tables set as a wedding present and wished her a happy married life. Miss Vanoni was then the recipient of good wishes from fellow workers.

COLEMAN AND BLAIRMORE AIR CADETS GUESTS OF PALACE THEATRE

It was with sincere appreciation that the respective committees of Blairmore and Coleman Air Cadets accepted Mrs. Cole's kind invitation that their squadrons be her guests last Friday evening at the Palace theatre.

Knowing human nature as she does, Mrs. Cole extended her invitation to include the air cadets' girl friends and thereby earned the vociferous gratitude of over twenty cadets who lost no time in inviting their best girls to a free show.

To make the evening a merry one, the air cadet committee arranged a social hour after the show at the Catholic hall, where dancing was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones returned home on Sunday from a visit to Calgary. While in the city they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hadley and Mrs. and Mrs. J. Jemson.

S. J. LAMEY PASSED AWAY TUESDAY MORNING AT BLAIRMORE

Sylvester J. Lamey, 57, died at his home in Blairmore on Tuesday morning of this week. Born in Hastings, Ont., he came to Blairmore in 1918 becoming manager of the old Union Bank and later going to Bellevue as manager of the branch there.

He resigned from that position two years later, opening an insurance agency in Blairmore. Two years ago his son entered the firm as a partner. Mr. Lamey is survived by his wife, his son Frank and a daughter, Mrs. G. Youngberg, of Bellevue.

Funeral was held this morning from the family home, committal being made in the Catholic cemetery following service at St. Anne's church.

REPAIR WORK AT CEMETERIES NOW FINISHED

The repair work on the cemeteries is now practically completed, with the $200 appropriation absorbed.

Bulk of the work has been done on the union cemetery, where new fence posts and a new 12-foot gate has been erected. Both cemeteries have been raked and the debris will be moved as soon as weather permits. Citizens frequenting the cemeteries are asked to keep them as clean as possible. Debris from concrete wall should be carried away as soon as possible.

Announcement

Regarding Sunday Gasoline Sales

In view of the action taken by Lethbridge and Calgary garages and service stations, the garages and service stations of the Crows Nest Pass will maintain the same hours as in the past until the government lifts the restrictions on tire sales and abandons the rationing of gasoline.

This means that garages and service stations will remain closed on Sundays and will close at the usual time on week days.

Let's Get Together, CANADIANS!

"Let us, as Canadians, resolve to put aside sectionalism and class hatred; let us renounce the politics of expedience and the fruitless game of playing off one group against another; let us require of the Government that it harmonize all the various elements of the community and fashion them into a vigorous, co-operative society for the betterment of all."

John Bracken

We believe that the one essential of all national progress is national unity. A United Canada is the firm foundation on which all the far-reaching Progressive Conservative plans for post-war reconstruction are enduringly based. We are determined to achieve that unity.

THE AGE OF PLENTY IS AT OUR DOOR—if we will but unite and co-operate to make it a reality for every one of our fellow citizens.

BUT

CANADA HAS BEEN SPLIT APART

In time of war, Canadians "reaped the whirlwind" brought about by the King Government's manpower policies—policies that for 25 years have been fostering division and disunity. Those policies now challenge every fair-minded Canadian. That challenge—now that V-E Day has come and gone—is the first to be faced if Canadians are to assure the unity and prosperity of this nation.

TO-DAY, THE QUESTION IS: Shall political expediency be perpetuated?

Shall the "biggest hoax ever perpetrated on a nation" be permitted, in time of peace, to embroil Canada in new inequities, new partisan squabbles, new divisions and disunities?

OR—do YOU agree with John Bracken who bluntly states that "to give political considerations priority over the nation's interest is intolerable and unforgivable"?

CANADA FACES THE ISSUE

To-day, Canada's heritage of national disunity is too evident, too real, to be ignored. The grave crisis of war, which proverbially unites a nation, has been used as a political instrument to accentuate and inflame differences found in every human family... fostering disunity, in this our country, to serve party purposes. The political self-seeking of the King Government's "Divide and Rule" policy has exacted a toll in sacrifice and suffering to be shared by generations to come.

UNITE—CO-OPERATE—PROSPER

Long ago, John Bracken expressed the great objective of the Progressive Conservatives. In his own words, we are setting out "to regain the unity that has been lost". Unity—Co-operation—these are the foundations of our new, progressive conception of National Prosperity in which all Canadians shall share.

WE STAND FOR—

National Unity... NOT Piecemeal Politics seeking Political Advantage through National Disunity.

Co-operation... NOT Class Hatred, Dictatorship and Bureaucratic Tyranny.

WE BELIEVE—

- Sectionalism must come to an end, subject to the recognized rights of minorities.

- Everyone, regardless of racial origin, must be regarded as a Canadian, sharing equally the rights and obligations of Canadian citizenship.

WE DEMAND—

- In War, equality of service and sacrifice.

- In Peace, equality of opportunity for all.

- One standard of citizenship.

Danger Of Inflation

THROUGHOUT THE EUROPEAN WAR, the people of Canada were constantly warned of the danger of inflation. With the co-operation of the public, however, price controls, wage ceilings and other anti-inflation measures have been carried out, with the result that the cost of living here has risen very little in comparison with that of many other countries. Had living costs gone up to the extent often experienced in time of war, the people at home would have had a much more difficult time, and the war effort as a whole would no doubt have suffered. The inconveniences of attempting to keep wages and prices stabilized have been many, but the people have appeared to realize that those inconveniences are small, compared to the economic chaos which accompanies inflation.

Pacific War May Be Long

Since the Canadian Army and a large part of the Navy and Air Force have for over five years been in service in Europe, the end of hostilities there has meant that, for a time at least, the strain and anxiety of war has been eased for many people here. The gradual conclusion of some war industries to the production of civilian goods has added to the feeling that we are entering upon a much less critical phase of hostilities. There is danger, however, in failing to realize that our forces will soon be involved in the war in the Pacific and that there is no indication now that the struggle there may not go on for some time. It must also be realized, that as long as we are at war, there is danger of the evils which accompany it, and that one of these evils is inflation. Lack of vigilance now would undo all that has been accomplished since 1939, and would in addition, destroy our opportunities for stability in the reconstruction period.

Public Support Must Continue

Vigilance will also be necessary during the time that the armed forces are being demobilized and war industries converted to peacetime production. The first year and a half following World War I saw a rapid rise of prices and it is believed that there is danger of the same thing happening when this war ends if the people fail to support price controls and other precautions against inflation. Finance Minister Flaherty, in a statement on this subject said, "Sharply rising prices in the demobilization and reconversion period would undoubtedly be followed by inflation and serious unemployment afterwards." Canada experienced a long period of unemployment and depression shortly after the war, and there is no one who would wish to see these conditions return. Public restraint in spending, and co-operation in maintaining stability of wages and prices even after the war is ended, will be one important factor making for security in the future.

HOW YOU CAN GET QUICK RELIEF FROM SORE, PAINFUL PILES

Most people seem to think the only way lower bowel the painful pile tumors soon to get relief from their sore, painful piles is by local treatment. Local treatment of the sensitive rectal area gives temporary relief from the itching, but you can only make your rectum feel better by using Hem-Roid. Hem-Roid is a powerful, yet gentle, laxative that will not irritate the rectum or cause any harm. No lasting freedom from pile tumors can be had unless the cause of the trouble is removed. This is due to internal causes as the best way to get lasting relief is to treat them internally with medicine like Hem-Roid. ### Canada Has Least Reason To Complain About Food Shortage

What we ought all to remember is that, except for butter and sugar, Canada is now better fed than ever before. Our production of food has increased enormously during the war, in spite of labor and other shortages, and although much of our output is exported, quite enough food is left here to meet all reasonable requirements. Of all the world's countries, Canada has at this moment probably the least reason to complain about its food position. Brockville Recorder and Times.

Just Another Citizen

Princess Juliana Was Thoroughly Democratic Visitor In Canada

Princess Juliana, the heir apparent to the throne of the House of Orange who has now returned to her people freed at last from the Nazi yoke, was a most kindly, friendly and thoroughly democratic visitor in Canada. She lived quietly and simply at her home in Rockcliffe, a residential suburb of the capital. At any time she might be seen walking bareheaded along its winding streets with friends, usually her neighbors, or with her children. She put her foot down on the idea of sending her two daughters to a private school. When she took them to the public school she told the headmistress not to "tell stories about fairy princesses or any stuff like that." Her children were to be treated exactly the same as anybody else. They were to mix with all the other children and become their friends. And so they have. Princess Juliana seemed to like the informality of her life here. In her own home when servants were hard to get she helped to do the housework and frequently did the cooking for the family, according to a recent story written by Morris McDougall. She was an active voluntary worker at the Superfluity Shop, which is run by ladies of Ottawa for the benefit of the Red Cross. She has been just "Juliana", at her own insistence, to her friends of the shop whom she has helped eagerly, unostentatiously, and energetically. With her heart full of the needs of her country she always had her eyes open for anything sold in the shop that might be of value to her people. "I want to buy that overcoat," she would say. "It is a long one and the men in my country are tall, you know," and the coat would be added to the large collection of goods that she prepared for the day when they could be delivered.

Not Good Mine Layers

Japs Not As Clever At Concealment As Germans Were

The Japanese have a good assortment of land mines but aren't nearly the masters of their employment that the Germans proved themselves in Europe.

Capt. L. B. Fubricover, of Edmonton and Montreal, who was in Sicily and Italy with the Canadian Engineers, has been in the Pacific several months as an observer of American and Japanese engineering methods.

The Japanese have effective standard mines but conceal them poorly, or often use grenades, shells, bombs or torpedo heads instead. They don't use them with any kind of thoroughness.

War Souvenir

Olympic Runner From Canada Finds Photo Of Himself In Germany
Dr. Joe Gebella has admittedly produced a few surprises in his time but for "Mush" Limon, 30, of Vancouver, a shell-shattered house near the deflated doctor's Gladbach (Germany) estate takes the spotlight. Curiosity prompted the former city sprinter and Olympic runner to wander into the ruins.

Of the once expensive furnishings only a small table remained intact. And on that table the amazed airman noticed a framed picture. Goggle-eyed, he took another look.

It was a picture of himself, accepting the baton from Phil Edwards in the Olympic relay. The photo was taken in Berlin in 1936.

Limon has it now his most cherished souvenir of the war.

"Mush" now somewhere in Germany with the City of Ottawa squad, was based at Nidderhausen when he wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Limon, West Vancouver.

SMILE AWHILE

Phyl: "What did your husband think about that expensive new hat you bought last week?"
Flo: "He just raved about it!"

"What was it you wanted to tell me?" asked the boy in furlough.
"Oh," said the girl, "it was just that mother last night asked me to ask you if you wanted to ask my father anything; he's going out of town tomorrow."

Wife: "How can we estimate our cost of living?"
Husband: "That's simple; take our income and add 50 per cent."

After giving the private a dressing down for being so late in returning with the supplies, the sergeant demanded, "Okay, let's hear how it happened, Miller."

"Well, I picked up a chaplain along the road," explained the weebegone rookie, "and from then on the mules couldn't understand a word I said."

First Shopper: "Why are you racing around on a hot day like this?"

Second Shopper: "I'm trying to get something for my husband."

First Shopper: "Have you had any others?"

"All men who are fond of music, two paces forward!" bawled the top sergeant.

When half a dozen cricks had stepped forward, with visions of getting free tickets to a concert, the sergeant added: "O.K., you six mugs come along, we've gotta piano to move."

The weary father was marching up and down at 1 a.m. with a wailing infant in his arms, when there came a knock on the door. It was the tenant from below, carrying a pair of new shoes.

"I say, old man," he said, "while you're about it, you might break these in for me."

A man running after a tramcar, panted to the conductor: "How much to the station from here?"
"Twopence," replied the conductor.

The man continued to run, and having covered another stretch, inquired breathlessly of the conductor: "How much now?"

"Threepence," retorted the conductor. "You're running the wrong way."

"Do you think our new neighbors are desirable people?" asked the man of the house.

"Oh, yes," replied the wife. "I watched them unload their belongings. They have a lawn mower and their own garden tools."

An English tourist travelling in the North of Scotland, far away from anywhere, exclaimed to one of the natives:

"Why, what do you do when any of you are ill? You can never get a doctor."

"Nae, sir," replied Sandy. "We've just to dee a natural death."

Merchandise Junked Before War Selling Well In Paris Shops
The big department stores of Paris, which were showing deficits year after year before the war, have experienced a sudden prosperity. The Bon Marche, for instance, showed a loss of 21,000,000 francs in 1938 but had a profit of 23,000,000 in 1944. The stores are now selling out at a good profit all the broken, outmoded, and rejected merchandise which they junked in the warehouse before the war.

NOT HIS FAULT

Two American soldiers who had just arrived in Britain found the telephone boxes somewhat confusing. One of them was trying to make a call.

After manoeuvring with buttons A-B and dialing the operator, he had just pressed one of the buttons when a V bomb exploded nearby. Stumbling out on his knees, and covered with dust, he found his pal flat on the pavement somewhat hurt. He said: "Honest, Joe, all I did was press button A."

FULL OPERATIONAL STRENGTH OF THE ROYAL NAVY TO BE TURNED AGAINST JAPANESE

BRITISH PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS.—More than 100 ships are expected to be continuously required to keep the British Pacific fleet supplied and maintained when the full operations strength of the Royal Navy is turned against the Japanese.

This will be the largest "fleet train" ever run by the British Navy over the longest supply direct line it has had to face.

Unlike the United States navy, which had time and resources to build land bases across the Pacific as it pushed forward, the British fleet will have to operate from 3,000 to 4,000 miles from its main base in Australia and must keep everything mobile between its base and the scene of operations.

One of the largest naval and air store depots in the world, covering more than 1,000,000 square feet and employing some 1,500 persons, is established in Australia for the fleet's needs.

(Canada intends to put 60 war ships into service in the Pacific with the Royal Navy. Some of these ships, among them the light cruiser Uganda, now are with the fleet.)

Upwards of a score of victualling ships alone will be constantly ferrying food and clothing from Australia to the fleet, each ship capable of carrying a month's supply of food for 30,000 men as well as clothes and mess gear for 10,000.

The main problem of the supply officers is having the right thing arrive at the right place at the right time. They must think in terms of months and the thousands of miles.

Yokohama Raid Great Cause Of Worry To Japan

SAN FRANCISCO.—Tokyo radio said the American incendiary raid on Yokohama left 250,000 inhabitants of Japan's second largest port homeless with 60,000 houses destroyed, but the count of dead and injured would take some time to complete.

The city's communications and transportation lines were knocked out, providing more war worries for Premier Kantaro Suzuki, who conferred with six former premiers of the empire.

While the broadcast, heard by the federal communications commission, gave no details of subjects discussed by Suzuki and some of his ministers with ex-premiers, Do not agency hinted at the agenda with the report that the nation was filled "with trepidation" over the raid damage to the Imperial palace.

The former premiers attending the conference were listed as Kuniaki Koiso, Hideki Tojo, Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Katsuo Okada and Koki Hirota.

Other broadcasts emanating from Tokyo reported seven more Japanese admirals had died in battle, bringing the total to more than 100 in less than a year.

NETHERLANDS ARMY

About 200,000 Men Will Take Part In Pacific Fight

NEW YORK. James M. De Boy, minister of war of the Netherlands, has advised Dutch military authorities to "start the reorganization of the Netherlands armed forces as fast as possible." He said the Netherlands army, numbering about 200,000 men, was to "participate in the fight against Japan" an AEBSE (American broadcasting station in Europe) broadcast recorded by the office of war information reported.

MILITARY TRAINING

Poll Of Youth Opinion Favors One Year Compulsory Service

TORONTO.—Young people are in favor of continuing compulsory military training after the war. In a poll of youth opinion (ages 15-24) made for the Canadian Youth Commission, the following question was asked: civilian youth in Canada:

"After the war is over, do you think every able-bodied young man should be required to serve one year in the army, navy, or air force?"

Forty-six per cent. favor this proposal; 40 per cent. oppose it—with the remainder undecided. Regional differences are negligible, the vote in Quebec being 45 per cent. in favor and 42 per cent. opposed.

Young men, those who would be directly affected, favor the proposal more than do young women. So do those under 20 who are still at school. Those with some college training evince the least enthusiasm for the proposal, perhaps because they see it as delaying their professional training or practice.

A poll taken for the same age group in the armed services, both at home and overseas, shows 58 per cent. in favor of continuing compulsory service.

CRIMINALS LISTED

Time Has Come For Allied Commission To Start Trials

LONDON.—Lord Wright told the United Nations war crimes commission that 2,657 individuals had been charged with war crimes by various Allied countries and the commission itself, and of these, 2,524 are Germans.

"The time has now come when the mere collection of material must change over into action," said the Australian chairman of the conference, representing 16 countries. "Action here means the trial of criminals and their conviction, sentence and punishment where appropriate."

Of those charged with war crimes in addition to Germans, 110 are Italians, 17 are Bulgarians, two are Hungarians, two are Albanians and two are Romanians.

FIRST IN FIVE YEARS

LONDON.—For the first time in five years Londoners are being issued new telephone directories, containing names starting with the letters L to Z. The A to K directories will not be delivered until November. The old tattered telephone books which each private subscriber has had to use since 1940 has gone into the paper salvage bin.

BRITISH FLEET IN THE PACIFIC IS WELCOMED BY AMERICAN FORCES, SAYS ADMIRAL NIMITZ

YOUTH SUNDAY

Preparations Made For Observance Throughout Canada

Preparations for the seventh observance of Empire Youth Sunday throughout Canada and the British Commonwealth Empire are well under way. The day selected by common consent is June the Tenth. The Canadian Empire represents all the Church Communities and the nine Provincial Education Departments of the Dominion.

As the European war has terminated on a triumphant note there is all the more reason for emphasizing the things of the spirit for which the anniversary stands.

His Majesty, the King, Patron of the movement, has declared that Empire Youth Sunday reminds the younger generation of the ideals which have sustained the Empire in past trials—ideals which we should hand on to future generations. For in youth's hands lies much of the shaping of the post war world. His Majesty's message to the Empire on Christmas Day, 1944, contained this impressive sentence: "We long for a new birth of freedom and order among all nations so that happiness and concord may prevail."

Hitler has shown us that the young can be moulded into a definitely evil type. We have in mind a very different culture incubated by different methods. The object in view is a spiritual mobilization of the youth of the Empire and of the world.

Announcement will be made later in regard to trans-Atlantic Youth Sunday broadcasts from Westminster Abbey and from Canadian churches. In each of the past four years, the address at the Abbey Service has been given by a young man in His Majesty's Forces, and it is hoped that this year the speaker may be a member of the First British Airborne Corps.

The material as well as the spiritual value of holding the Empire together with increasing power for good has been illustrated during the War by the primary role which the British peoples played in standing alone against an all-powerful enemy for a whole year after France fell, until our Allies got ready to enter the struggle.

ABOARD H.M.S. KING GEORGE V

Guam—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander, told officers and men of the British navy that their "most efficiently performed" aid in the war against Japan is welcomed by American forces in the Pacific.

He denied reports which he said were circulated in the Allied press and verbally to the effect the United States Pacific fleet didn't want the British fleet to come into the Pacific.

Speaking extemporaneously to the officers and men of the King George V, flagship of a British carrier task force, he asserted:

"I assure you that those statements were without foundation."

The British flagship, escorted by the British destroyers Troubridge, Truscovick and Teitgen, brought Vice-Admiral Sir Bernard Rawlings, commander of the British Pacific fleet carrier task force which has been neutralizing the Sakishima island group.

Also operating in the action, southwest of Okinawa, were H.M.S. Indefatigable, a carrier; the Canadian cruiser Ugawana and the New Zealand cruiser Zambra.

The American Fifth Fleet commander, Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, in an official despatch has commended the work of the British ships in supporting the Okinawa invasion, saying the performance "was typical of the great traditions of the Royal Navy."

Admiral Nimitz declared he wanted to say "in most emphatic terms" that the work of the British fleet during the Okinawa operation "is not only most efficiently performed but of the most valuable service."

He told the assembled company that there "is no violation of security" in saying that when the British ships had to leave the Sakishima group for refueling during the Okinawa invasion the American carriers forces were spread thin to replace the British in keeping down Japanese plane activity there.

As a result, he said, losses of American forces increased during the period the British task force was absent.

"You kept the Jap suiciders (suicide planes) off the decks of our ships. Your services have been very valuable in saving lives and saving ships."

OTTAWA.—Regional offices of the oil controller throughout Canada took over June 1 the handling of all applications for gasoline ration books and will issue all books, the munitions department announced.

Formerly the provincial issuers of motor vehicle licences issued all "AA" gasoline ration books while the oil control regional officers handled the special category books. The handling of books is now centralized with the oil control offices.

FARM MACHINERY

Increase Of About 30 Per Cent. In Production

WINNIPEG.—Re-allocation of material providing for an increase of about 30 per cent. in the production of machinery for the 1946 farm year, was announced here by H. H. Bloom, Ottawa.

Mr. Bloom, administrator of farm machinery for the prices board, said rationing of implements would continue through 1945 to assure fair distribution. Increase of supplies would not be noticeable before next year.

Walter Bobbitt Passed Away In Calgary, Saturday

Came to Coleman in 1910; Had Operated Grocery Store for Past
23 Years; Funeral Held on Wednesday Afternoon.

Walter Bobbitt is dead. Walter, liked by all who knew him, had been ill for some considerable time and four weeks ago he was admitted to a Calgary hospital for treatment. His condition gradually grew worse and arrangements had been made with the Veterans' Welfare Dept. to have him moved to the Belcher hospital, but he passed away Saturday morning at 7.30 before the transfer took place.

He was born in Lithuania sixty-six years ago. He came from Europe when quite young and settled in Pennsylvania, where he ultimately found work in the coal mines.

In 1910 he came to Coleman, and from that time on has resided here. His first job was with the Coleman Wholesale Liquor Store, now occupied by the Friendly Store. Following this he obtained work with the International Coal & Coke Co. as a miner. About 1920 he opened the Bobbitt's Grocery Store in West Coleman and has operated the business till time of his death.

While not active on community committees, Walter had always taken a keen interest in the welfare of the town and was always willing to give support to all worth while activities.

He was a member of Coleman Elks, Coleman Branch of the Canadian Legion and an old member of the Eagles' lodge.

In February, 1916, he enlisted with the 192nd Battalion. He went overseas and was sergeant of a Russian platoon in France. He received his honorable discharge in 1919.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the family residence in west Coleman. Services were held in Holy Ghost church, Rev. L. Sullivan conducting.

The funeral arrangements were in charge of the Coleman Branch of the Canadian Legion. In attendance were Legion members, Coleman Elks and Pass merchants, as well as many friends and acquaintances.

Pallbearers included three Legion members, Fred Antrobus, Harold Pinkney and William Antle, and three Elks, J. A. McDonald, Robert Bell and Mike Hutchlak. Interment was made in Coleman Catholic cemetery.

At the graveside services were conducted by Rev. Leo Sullivan, Richard Tiffin on behalf of Coleman Elks, and Comrade Archie McCulloch on behalf of the Canadian Legion. The firing party fired three shots over the body as Bugler J. Lowe played "The Last Post." Pipe Major Moore played "Flowers of the Forest."

Surviving are his wife, Josephine, of Penticton; two daughters, Lilian, of Penticton, and Sylvia, of Vancouver, and a son, Walter, of Penticton. Mrs. Bobbitt was present, having travelled from Penticton upon being informed of her husband's death.

MERCHANTS VOICE SYMPATHY

On behalf of the merchants of Coleman I wish to convey our regrets at the passing of an old-time fellow merchant, Walter Bobbitt. He was always an ardent supporter of business men's organizations and attended their meetings whenever possible.

Secretary, Pass M.R.A.

"In this historic riding of Macleod we have 185 Grain Elevators, with a storage capacity of a little more than 10 million bushels; and grain men at their head offices in Calgary and Winnipeg tell me that this is one of the top-notch grain producing constituencies in Western Canada.

"Insofar as the raising of beef cattle is concerned, there isn't any doubt that the Macleod Riding is the greatest Ranching Riding in all Canada.

"The Macleod Riding contains the south half of the greatest Oil Field in Canada; and in the Crows Nest Pass and in other places within the riding, there are millions of tons of Coal.

"In the Macleod Riding we enjoy the mildest climate of any of the constituencies of the Western Prairies, and are adjacent to beautiful parks and unsurpassed mountain scenery.

"From out of these mountains to the west flow rivers that will eventually be used for irrigation.

"Truly we have a riding to be proud of, and all we need is a Progressive Government to make it one of the most prosperous parts of Canada."
